OUR BELIEFS

1. We believe the 66-book Bible is verbally inspired and inerrant in the original writings. We believe that the Bible must be interpreted literally, according to context, history, and grammar. We believe the dispensational approach to the Bible.
2. We believe there is one only living and true God, eternally existing in three persons – Father, Son, and Holy Spirit.
3. We believe that man was created in the image of God, but he sinned, and thereby all human beings are born with a sin nature which is at enmity with God. Man therefore needs to be reconciled to God, released from slavery to sin, and delivered from God's wrath against sin and the guilt of sin.
4. We believe in Christ's virgin birth, physical bodily resurrection, ascension, and present intercession for us.
5. We believe that Jesus Christ died in our place at Calvary and that His sacrifice is the only ground for forgiveness of sin.
6. We believe that salvation is by grace through faith in Jesus Christ, and that all who so believe are eternally saved, transformed, and being sanctified.
7. We believe in the imminent, pretribulational rapture of the church. We believe in the personal, premillennial return of the Lord Jesus to the earth to set up His Kingdom.

DEVOTIONAL READING

Rooted in the Right Place: Biblical Discipleship in a Therapeutic Age
by Pastor Paul Tautges (part 2 of 3)

Jeremiah also reminds us that spiritual stability develops over time. The tree sends out its roots toward the water source. Spiritually speaking, this is the believer who continually feeds on God's Word, seeks the Lord in prayer, and learns to depend upon His promises. Psalm 1 uses the same imagery. The person who delights in God's law and meditates on it day and night becomes "like a tree planted by streams of water." Roots determine fruits.

Perhaps most importantly, Jeremiah makes clear that trusting God does not exempt us from suffering. Heat still comes. Drought still comes. Trials still arrive. The difference is not the absence of hardship but the presence of a sustaining source.

When life becomes painful, the self-rooted person often withers under the weight of fear, anxiety, or despair because the self was never designed to carry that burden. But the believer whose roots run deep into the character and promises of God continues to bear fruit—even through tears. Jeremiah then explains why self-trust is so dangerous: "The heart is deceitful above all things, and desperately sick; who can understand it?" (Jer. 17:9) That verse cuts directly against the grain of modern culture. Our world says, "Look within and you will find truth." Jeremiah says the opposite. Because of sin, the human heart is not a trustworthy guide.

When Scripture speaks of the heart, it refers to the inner control center of a person—the place where thoughts, desires, emotions, and will intersect. And Jeremiah says that sin corrupts this inner command center. This does not mean feelings are meaningless. Emotions are real and often reveal important things. But feelings are not infallible. We must interpret them through the lens of God's truth. To be continued, from https://counselingoneanother.com/2026/05/15/rooted-in-the-right-place-biblical-discipleship-in-a-therapeutic-age/
